The last frontier of the American continent, where bears, reindeer, elk, glaciers, spectacular mountains, inhospitable valleys and immense rivers meet in one of the most remote areas to ride a motorcycle.

Alaska is one of those sites that we have always seen in reports and documentaries as a spectacular adventure destination. How many times have you thought about how amazing it would be to ride through that inhospitable region where wildlife remains intact?

Join this adventure that runs along beautiful side roads and very easy tracks between forests, glaciers, mountains and rivers, suitable for all bikers, even with passengers.

1 - Anchorage - Anchorage - 0

We will meet at hotel, and will have a welcome dinner together. If you are arriving after 5pm please let us know. Tomorrow we start the riding!

2 - Anchorage - Seward - 220

We start of tour riding south through one of the top ten roads in the USA, the Seward HWY. Not a long day riding for this first day, so we can leave late, get comfortable on our bikes and enjoy the ride! Night in Hotel in Seward.

3 - Seward - Takeena Peninsula - 380

After doing this route on the Kenai peninsula and riding through the spectacular Seward HW, we return to enjoy it back towards Talkeetna, approaching the area of Denali National Park, and we can already have good views of the old McKenley with its more 6,000m high, being the highest mountain in North America. It has now recovered its original native name, Denali. We will have dinner in a local place in the town.

4 - Talkeetna - Clearwater Mountain Lodge - 280

We leave Talkeetna to continue north, until the fork with the spectacular Denali Highway: a wide and simple track of more than 150 km in the middle of nowhere to feel Alaska in all its splendor. To get more into this incredible region, we will sleep in a very basic but very local "lodge" in the middle of this track. In the afternoon time to take a walk in the surroundings and enjoy nature.

5 - Clearwater Mountain Lodge - Chitina - 350

We continue down Denali HW to Paxon, where it ends. At that moment we will head south towards Chitina, another curious local hotel in the middle of nowhere, the kind that reminds us of the far west. We will sleep here and eat a good hamburger with a great beer, all very American.

6 - Chitina - Chitina - 200

Today we will leave all our luggage in the hotel since we slept 2 nights in it, a spectacular and comfortable day. We head east to take the track (also wide and simple) towards McCarthy and the old Kenickot mines, a spectacular abandoned 19th century mining town that is being restored and that you can experience what the Far west was at that time. If all goes well, maybe today you will walk on a glacier! In the afternoon we retrace our steps back to Chitina, where we will enjoy with a beer the stories that we have lived that day.

7 - Chitina - Valdez - 200

We have a calmer day in terms of kilometers, so we will get up calmly to enjoy a good breakfast. From here we will head west to roll down Richardson highway, surrounded by glaciers, waterfalls and spectacular views across the Thomson Pass. We are in the area with the most snowfall in Alaska. We will arrive in Valdez soon to have a free afternoon, walk around town, and enjoy the surroundings.

8 - Valdez - Anchorage - 450

Although it is the last day of motorcycle, we have a lot ahead of us: a long day riding through one of the most spectacular roads in North America, the Glenn Highway, with constant views of the Matanuska Glacier, simply majestic.

9 - Anchorage - Anchorage - 0

After a week of intense motorcycle riding through this wonderful region, the time you will have to rest or get up early to go to the airport will depend on your return flight. What we are sure is that it has been an unforgettable adventure!
